Getting Your Child Ready for School During COVID-19 "Better to Prevent than Lament"

What will school look like this fall? Will kids go back to school in-person or will they learn online? For many families this is not clear yet and whatever is decided, parents must have a plan to prepare their children for this unusual upcoming school year.

To help ease your worries we invite you to a bilingual Facebook Live with Magdalena Benitez, Consultant for Abriendo Puertas, who will help guide parents about how to support kids and develop an action plan for returning to school.

Join us Thursday, August 13th at 4pm ET/1pm PST and have your questions ready. She will be answering in English and Spanish!
